

HSM IP Trade Mark Client Guide

ANTIGUA & BARBUDA

Registration

A trade mark can be registered in Antigua & Barbuda pursuant to The Trade Marks Act (2003) which provides for local trade mark applications dating from receipt of the application.

The following information and documentation is required:

1. name of the trade mark
2. one copy of the mark (unless mark is word only)
3. class(es) and specification of goods and/or services
4. applicant's name and address
5. Statement of Application and Declaration of Intent-to-Use (notarised)
6. Power of Attorney (proprietor's seal or notarised)
7. certified copy of priority document (if priority is claimed)

It usually takes about four years for the Registrar's Office to process an application for registration. Paris Convention priority can be claimed. Once the registration is complete the Registrar's Office will issue a Certificate of Registration.

Classes

The International Classification system is used. Multi-class applications are allowed.

Searches

In order to conduct a search the only documentation required is the name of the trade mark. The result can usually be provided within three weeks. A search cannot be conducted for a device or logo alone.

Renewal

A trade mark registration is valid for 10 years after which it can be renewed for like periods. Two months before the renewal date we will send you an Expiry Notice asking whether you wish us to renew the registration or allow the mark to lapse. If the registration is to be renewed the documentation required is six prints of the mark (unless mark is word only), the goods and/or services and classes in which the mark is registered and a Power of Attorney (notarised).

The application for renewal should be filed prior to the expiration date of the registration. A grace period of six months, however, is allowed from the expiration date for the filing of the application for renewal upon payment of a late fee. After that time an application for restoration may be made.

Trade marks registered under The Trade Marks Act (1887) or extended by way of the Registration of United Kingdom Trade Marks Act (1946) are valid up to their expiry date or 10 years from the entry into force of The Trade Marks Act (2003), whichever period ends first. On renewal all marks will be reclassified under the International Classification (entry into force date 17 July 2007).

It usually takes 18 months or less for the Registrar's Office to process an application for renewal. Once the renewal is complete the Registrar's Office will issue a Certificate of Renewal.

If you do not wish to renew the mark please inform us so that we can advise the Registrar's Office accordingly.

Abandonment

Please inform us as soon as possible if you wish to abandon your trade mark or allow it to lapse so that we can update our records and advise the Registrar's Office accordingly. This will avoid us sending out unnecessary Reminder Notices.

Assignment

Please inform us as soon as possible if the trade mark has been assigned so that we can file an application to record the assignment in Antigua & Barbuda.

To record the assignment of a trade mark registration the documentation required is the Deed of Assignment (notarised), a Declaration verifying the assignment (notarised), a Power of Attorney (notarised) and a Recording of Change in Ownership form.

It usually takes 18 months or less for the Registrar's Office to process an application to record an assignment. Once the recording is complete the Registrar's Office will issue a Certificate of Assignment.

Change of Particulars

Please inform us as soon as possible if there is any change to the registration so that we can file an application to record the change in Antigua & Barbuda.

To record a change of name and/or address for a trade mark registration the only documentation required is the document evidencing the change (notarised) or a Declaration certifying the change (notarised) and a Power of Attorney (notarised). For amendments to the mark the documentation required is one copy of the amended mark (unless mark is word only), a Declaration of Change (notarised) and a Power of Attorney (notarised).
